DAF YOMI4 KIDS

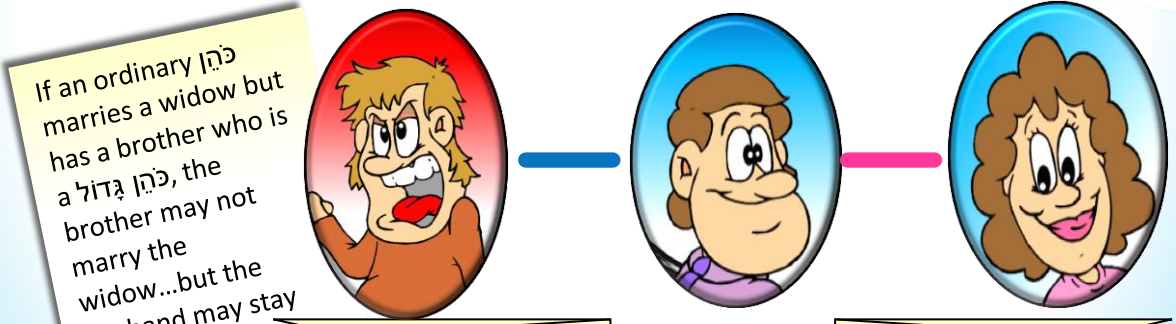

Inside the Daf

The מְסֻנָּה gives some examples of wives who are allowed to be with their husbands, others who may not be married to their husbands but who may marry their husband's brothers and wives who may not stay married to their husbands nor marry their husbands' brothers. See the chart below for examples.

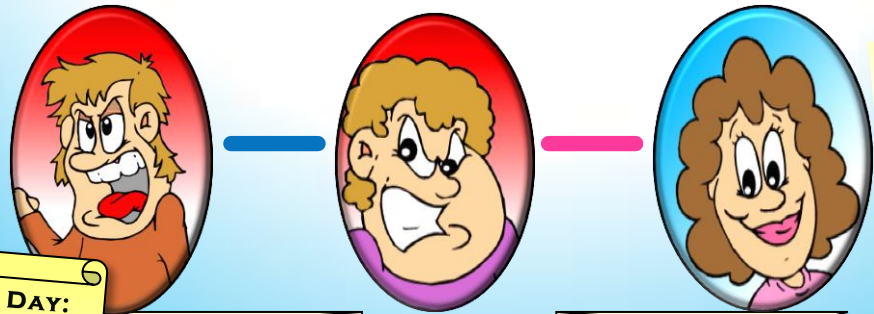

מתרות ליבמיהן ואסורות לבעליהן

A כֹּהֵן may become engaged to marry a widow, but a כֹּהֵן גָּדוֹל may not. If a כֹּהֵן גָּדוֹל becomes engaged to a widow, but his brother is a regular כֹּהֵן, she may not stay with the כֹּהֵן גָּדוֹל ...but his brother may become engaged to her and even marry her!

מתרות לבעליהן ואסורות ליבמיהן

If an ordinary כֹּהֵן marries a widow but has a brother who is a כֹּהֵן גָּדוֹל, the brother may not marry the widow...but the husband may stay married to her

אסורות לאלו ולאלו

If a כֹּהֵן גָּדוֹל marries a widow, and has a brother who is a כֹּהֵן גָּדוֹל, she may not stay with the כֹּהֵן גָּדוֹל ...and may not marry his brother!

Losing Out

Have you ever been punished for doing something you shouldn't have? Did the punishment mean you had something taken away?

The סוֹפְרִים (early Sages in the time of the Bible) made a rule that one may not marry not-so-close relatives, like grandmothers. If one marries such a relative, the couple must get divorced. During their marriage the husband would not have to give his wife food or clothing like he would in a regular marriage.

Worn out clothing is usually returned to the wife

Also, there are things the wife would lose out on after the divorce.

Usually, if a woman brings clothing into a marriage and the husband uses the clothing until it is worn out, the husband would need to return the worn out clothing to her if they divorce. But if a man would marry one of his not-so-close relatives, he would not have to return these clothes to her.

A מְדוּת Moment

Sammy was feeling left out. None of the kids at his new school would let him sit at their table at lunch time. Whenever he would try to sit somewhere, he would be told that the place was taken.

One day, the principal of the school addressed the problem and spoke to Sammy's class.

"The students of רַבֵּי אֶלְעָזָר בֶּן שְׁמוּעַל excluded all outsiders from their group. They wouldn't let anyone else learn from their teacher! At this school, we aren't like that. We should welcome newcomers with open arms and let them sit with whomever they like."

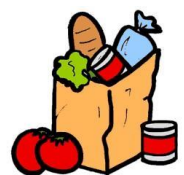

Did You Know...

The students of רַבֵּי אֶלְעָזָר בֶּן שְׁמוּעַל are compared to the roosters of בֵּית בּוּקִיאַ. These roosters would not let any stranger remain with them!
